

Andy Malik, Consultant

Andy is known for thinking outside the box and deploying forensic and strategic tactics that have achieved startling acquittals:

- R v MY (Newcastle Crown Court), Mr Recorder Hawks – Sexual Assault x 2 – Acquittal

MY, a young man of good character, faced two counts of sexual assault. On one view, he had admitted both offences on social media messages to the complainant, his only friend. Indeed, at a pre-trial hearing, a senior judge told MY directly: “You need to think carefully about the messages you sent to the Complainant. If you plead, you will get a reduced sentence, so the sooner you do so, the better. If you go to trial and, considering the inevitable, you will receive the full sentence with no reduction. That will make a substantial difference in a case like this.”

Despite this robust indication from the bench, Andy prepared this case forensically and instructed a Forensic Psychiatrist to consider factors such as social isolation, loneliness, and anxiety that could lead MY to confess simply to ensure that he did not lose the only friend he had. The jury found MY not guilty of both counts within 45 minutes.

Andy instructed Deb Smithies of Counsel at KBW Leeds.

- R v EE, DO and JC (Newcastle Crown Court), Mr Recorder Herman – Violent Disorder – Acquittal

All three young men were charged with serious public order offences, alleged to involve weapons. JC declined to serve a Defence Statement after receiving appropriate advice. JC was not arrested at the scene; the prosecution had to drop the case against him because they could not prove identity. EE and DO were arrested at the scene, and after tailored disclosure requests, careful analysis of the CCTV and forensic questioning of the complainants, both EE and DO were found not guilty. DO was advised not to give evidence.

Andy instructed Peter Eguae and Kate Temple Mabe of counsel from 7 Bedford Row, and Tom Lambert of Counsel at QEB Hollis Whiteman.

- R v MF (Newcastle Crown Court), HHJ Moreland – Rape – Acquittal

The allegation was one of rape, in which it was alleged the MF, then 16, had taken the child to an isolated wood and violently raped them.

MF had significant mental health difficulties, and Andy instructed a psychologist who confirmed a full-scale IQ score of 75 in the Borderline range, placing MF in the 5th percentile, meaning, in real terms, that 95% of people taking the same IQ assessment would have scored better than him.

Despite MF's young age, the young age of the Complainant, and the seriousness of the allegation, delays in the criminal justice system meant they had had to wait 3 years for his case to be heard.

Following a 4-day trial, the jury returned a verdict of Not Guilty and MF was acquitted. Andy instructed Eloise Emanuel of Counsel at QEB Hollis Whiteman, London.

- R v MN (Newcastle Crown Court), HHJ Earl- Child sexual abuse – Acquittal

MN faced a six-count indictment alleging serious sexual assaults, including penetration of a minor when she was aged between five and eight. Andy represented MN from his initial arrest to his acquittal of all counts by a jury. Andy made focused disclosure requests at the police station for the complainant's educational and social services records. Extracts from these records were placed before the jury.

Andy instructed Nick Lane of Counsel at New Park Chambers, Newcastle.

- R v RD (Newcastle Crown Court) Mr Recorder Hawks- 20 kilos importation of drugs – Acquittal

RD was accused of the fraudulent evasion of a prohibition on the importation of a controlled drug after he was stopped at Newcastle Airport by Border Officers on return from Thailand with two suitcases containing 53 vacuum-sealed packages of cannabis with a street value of over £700,000.

After an hour of deliberation at Newcastle Crown Court, the jury reached a unanimous not guilty verdict.

Andy instructed Soraya Bauwens of Counsel at Furnivall Chamber, London.

- R v SM (Newcastle Crown Court) HHJ Mallet – Dangerous Driving – Acquittal

SM was charged with dangerous driving, and the main prosecution witness was an experienced police sergeant who had observed the driving. After repeated requests for police dashcam footage and CCTV and a careful analysis of the same, the defence was able to discredit the police sergeant's evidence. The jury acquitted SM of both dangerous and careless driving.

Andy instructed Mr Peter Eguae of Counsel at 7 Bedford Row.

- R v SM and MR (Newcastle Crown Court) HHJ Mallet- section 18 wounding – Acquittal

Andy represented SM and MR, both professional door supervisors, who were charged with a section 18 wounding upon a marine officer, who lost all sight in his right eye following a ferocious attack. After careful analysis of the CCTV, the defence established neither SM nor MR had struck the knock-out punch, and both were found not guilty of both section 20 and 18 wounding. MR did not give evidence.

Andy instructed Ruth Broadbent of Counsel at QEB Hollis Whiteman, London, and Kate Temple-Mabe, of 7 Bedford Row, to represent SM and MR.

- R v RS (Newcastle Crown Court) HHJ Bindloss – Possession of Firearms with Intent and Armed Robbery – Acquittal

Andy represented RS, who was charged with a revenge armed robbery in Northumberland. RS's case involved the careful analysis and reconstruction of events using circumstantial evidence, including eyewitnesses, DNA, pathology, CCTV/ANPR cameras, and mobile phone usage/movement. Andy instructed an experienced psychologist to comment on RS's IQ. Based on the report, the Court was persuaded that no inferences should be drawn from RS's decision not to give evidence. RS was found not guilty.

Andy instructed Orla Daly of Counsel at QEB Hollis Whiteman, London, to represent RS.

- R v PN (Maidstone Crown Court), Mr Recorder Nelson – multi-million-pound PONZI fraud case – All charges dismissed

Andy represented PN in this privately funded multi-million-pound PONZI fraud case. PN was of impeccable character, and after representing him at the police station, Andy drafted a key facts document outlining the defence case and submitted it to the police within a month of the police interview. Following the charges and examination of the prosecution evidence, the defence successfully applied to have all charges dismissed on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

Andy instructed Crispin Aylett KC of QEB Hollis Whiteman, London, to represent PN.

- R v HP (Old Bailey), HHJ Gordon

Mother accused of murdering her 6-month-old daughter by throwing her out of a window. Following extensive representation and detailed psychiatric evidence, the prosecution accepted a plea to manslaughter on the grounds of diminished responsibility, and the court imposed a three-year community rehabilitation order. Andy represented HP from her initial police interview at Collindale Police Station, right to HP receiving a non-custodial sentence.

Andy instructed Linda Strudwick of Counsel at QEB Hollis Whiteman, London, to represent HN. <https://www.theguardian.com/uk/2002/jan/05/1>

- R v AC (Old Bailey), HHJ Mark QC, Murder

Plea of manslaughter accepted and detention under the Mental Health Act order granted – prosecution application for a Hybrid order (combined prison and hospital detention) rejected.

Andy represented AC, a dentist charged with the murder of Zkariyya Islam, a Muslim faith healer. AC was suffering from depression, and the murdered victim told him that evil spirits possessed him. AC's mental health deteriorated dramatically, and, suffering from a severe depressive psychosis, AC fatally stabbed the faith Healer, who died within minutes of the assault. Andy represented AC from his initial police interview at Plaistow Police Station, right to the conclusion. Andy prepared a letter before action against HMP Belmarsh that ensured AC was transferred to a hospital secure unit.

Andy instructed Linda Strudwick of Counsel at QEB Hollis Whiteman, London, to represent AC. <https://www.mirror.co.uk/news/uk-news/dentist-stabbed-faith-healer-death-7789872>

- R v HM (Newcastle Crown Court), HHJ Spragg- Rape and sexual grooming – Acquittal

Andy represented the only defendant to be acquitted of all counts in this high-profile sexual grooming trial. The remaining defendants were convicted and received double-figure sentences.

Andy instructed Linda Strudwick of Counsel, who led Phil McGhee of QEB Hollis Whiteman, London, to represent HM.

Andy has a specific interest in providing robust representation at the police station and acknowledges the importance of focused and tailored pre-charge engagement that may need the early resolution of cases:

- RS (Bedlington Police Station) – Violent Disorder and Wounding – No Further Action

Andy represented RS, who suffers from learning disabilities and autism. Andy obtained RS's medical records and made representations that, considering RS's mental health issues, a prosecution would not be in the public interest. The police agreed.

- RG (Forth Banks Police Station) – Murder – No Further Action

Andy represented RG, who was arrested for murder. Following a 'no comment' interview and representations around the sufficiency of evidence, the case was NFA'd.

- CG (Forth Bank Police Station) – Murder – No Further Action

CG was arrested for murder along with other members of her family. Andy represented her at the police station during several interviews and made representations to the superintendent about the extension of her detention. CG was granted bail, and then no further action was taken.

- JD (Forth Banks Police Station) – Rape and underage sex – No Further Action

Andy represented JD, who had positive good character, and who had come to Newcastle for the weekend. He was arrested for the rape of a 14-year-old. The issues in the case were consent and whether JD knew that the complainant was 14. Andy sent a detailed email to the police identifying the locations of CCTV and other relevant lines of inquiry. The police decided immediately to take no further action.

- JM (Chester Le Street) – Theft from employer

Andy prepared written representations to the Police that there was no necessity to arrest JM for substantial theft from his employer. The police agreed to deal with JM voluntarily, and the police later took no further action.
